Fun in the Sun-Myrtle Beach Style

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Smith, Darrell, and Lori Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Burnette Smith, Robin and Lisa left on June 16 bound for Lake Arrowhead, Myrtle Beach. Calvin and Vernelle Childress left on June 17 for the Royal Inn. Dick and Shirley Smith and Teresa Perrow motored down on Sunday, June 17, destination Trade Winds Motel. Wiley, Burnette, Dick, Vernelle, and Darrell went out fishing on a fishing boat for a day of fishing and relaxation - relaxation mostly. Everyone had a grand time during the week.

Green Peas - 7½ Feet Tall

Darrell Smith, pea holder. Lois Smith planted these peas. The seeds that were bought were supposed to be SNAP PEAS. They were a little slow starting so they figured that they would have peas sometime soon. Lois knew she was in trouble when they bloomed. Snap peas bloom purple. These were the usual white. She did not have any idea what kind of peas they are but they are TALL.

"Patrick Henry's Famous Speech Reenacted at Red Hill

"Give Me Liberty or give me death!" These inspiring words were spoken by Patrick Henry at St. John's Church in Richmond in March, 1775. Two actors from Richmond will re-enact Patrick Henry's famous speech on July 4th at the Independence Day celebration at Red Hill Shrine.

The actors, Mr. Ted Boelt and Mr. Kim Strong of the Richmond Department of Recreation and Parks, will portray Patrick Henry and the clerk of the Virginia Convention in period costume. Arguments pro and con to the resolution Henry offers to the Convention are summarized by the Clerk and the actor portraying Patrick Henry presents the resolution and the final speech that leads to the adoption of the resolution to arm the colony. The one-act play runs approximately 15 minutes.

"The Re-enactment of the Virginia Convention of 1775" is sponsored by Richmond's Department of Recreation and Parks. It is performed each week end throughout the summer at St. John's Church in Richmond using the original script prepared in 1927.

This re-enactment will be performed at 4:00 p.m. and is one of the main features of the old fashioned celebration at Red Hill Shrine sponsored by the Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation. Also featured will be crafts, food, music, tours through the Shrine and Museum and plenty of room for family picnics. The Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation urges everyone to come to Red Hill on July 4th to witness this inspiring re-enactment and enjoy a day of old-fashioned picnics and fun.

"Red Hill," restored home of Patrick Henry in Charlotte County. Site of this year's Independence Day Celebration.

July 4th Picnic At Red Hill Shrine Planned

Red Hill Shrine's "Old-fashioned July 4th Picnic and Celebration" is set for Wednesday, July 4 with many activities and special events scheduled. Sponsored by the Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation, the day-long event will be climaxed by a fireworks display at dusk. The Foundation encourages everyone to come to Red Hill to enjoy picnicking, hiking and games.

Throughout the day craftsmen from the area will be selling and demonstrating their crafts. Henry Kleinberg, candlemaker, will demonstrate the art of colonial candlemaking in its actual historic setting. Dempsey's Old Mill and Forge will demonstrate the colonial blacksmith's style of iron-making and see cornhush dollmaking by Claude and Peggy Kilgore. Other crafts available will be jewelry, pottery, macrame, tole painting, woodcutting and decoupage.

Also throughout the day food and drinks will be sold by the Friends of the Staunton River. Recreational activities, such as horseshoe pitching, croquet, and darts will be available. Tours will be conducted by volunteer hostesses through the Shrine and Museum and a videotape documentary on Patrick Henry's life at Red Hill will be shown in the Museum Library.

The special events will take place in the afternoon of July 4th according to the following schedule:

2:00 - Special puppet program for children. Performance by Jackie Dunn of Charlotte Court House, assisted by Winnie Morris and Ann Payne.

3:30 - Special Independence Day speaker, Honorable Joseph P. Crouch, Delegate to the Virginia General Assembly.

4:00 - "Re-enactment of the Virginia Convention of 1775" sponsored by the Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation and the Richmond Dept. of Recreation and Parks. Mr. Ted Boelt will portray Henry giving his famous "Give Me Liberty" speech, and Mr. Kim Strong, narrator, will portray the clerk of the convention.

9:00 - Special fireworks display by Zambelli Internationale set against the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Other organizations participating with the Foundation in the July 4th celebration to date are the Charlotte County Ruritan Club, the Red Hill Chapter DAR and the Staunton River Historical Society.

Come and enjoy an old-fashioned July 4th picnic and day of fun and celebration at Red Hill Shrine on Wednesday, July 4, 1979.

The Last Business Meeting and Events of P.B.W.C. For The Calendar Year

A dinner was given for all Plum Branch W.C. members and husbands at Mrs. John Dirzuweit's home. Mrs. John Dirzuweit was hostess of the dinner. The club business meeting was also held at Mrs. John Dirzuweit's. The club discussed on contacting the schools to try and get supplies for the left handed students. Help keep Virginia beautiful and on safety.

These events were held as follows. The P.B.W.C. gave a picnic for our Senior Citizens at Mrs. H. A. Parke's home. Mr. Parke did the cooking for our seniors. The club members would like to say thanks a lot to Mr. Parke for taking a day off from work to help us. Mr. Parke also furnished the hot dogs and hamburgers. Club members brought covered dishes. A picnic was followed for the P.B.W.C. members and husbands at Mrs. Lorene Smith home. Guest were also invited.

Mrs. Dan Holloway and Mrs. H. A. Parke was in charge for our senior citizens luncheon at the Concord Senior Center.

Mrs. Gerrie Heighton and granddaughter Shannon Buckley spent a lovely week with Mrs. Loretta Dirzuweit and family at their summer place at Smith Mountain Lake, swimming, fishing and nature hunting.

The Plum Branch W.C. would like to thank the Times Virginian Newspaper for printing their news of meetings and events for the last calendar year. Thanks a lot and love to you all.

TO GRANDMOTHER

I love you and all of us. Help one another and show our love one way or other.
I'm just as glad as I can be
That God has given this home to me.
